LONDON, OCTOBER 19.

A Correſpondent obſerves, that all the branches of the Houſe of Bourbon are cloſely united, and the object of their union is to leſſen the power of England. They have not only ſecured Sweden in their intereſt, but by rendering the Sovereign of that country abſolute, they have rendered him an uſeful ally. By their machinations they have enfeebled Ruſſia, by involving her in a tedious war, which, according to preſent appearance, will be ſtill more tedious. In this conjuncture will the King of Pruſſia ſeek no other connection than that of the Czarina, and depend on no other aſſiſtance than the broken armies of Ruſſia? Would not the Empreſs Queen take advantage of his condition, and attack Sileſia? Ruſſia is unable to aſſiſt him, and Britain unwilling. Depend upon it he will unite with France. He cannot do otherwiſe—the neceſſity of the times compels him. Here then, you have France, Spain, Pruſſia and Sweden united. They are all ambitious. Public tranquility is not their object—But wherever the ſtorm breaks, whether on Denmark, Hanover, or America, or on all of them together, England will be the ſufferer. Yet in this ſituation, if a writer well informed in regard to facts propoſes his apprehenſions, they are treated as viſionary.—In this ſituation we remain inactive, peeviſh with Pruſſia, and out of humour with the Danes, whom we can neither puniſh nor forgive. While we are thus governed by female paſſions, for female paſſions may reſide in creatures of the maſculine gender, can we act with honour and reſolution? And will not the preſent period be ſtigmatized in the annals of our nation as a period of timid Counſels? Happy miniſters! could ye involve your names in obſcurity, and blot the preſent era from the records of hiſtory! Reflect on theſe things, and on the award of poſterity—and ſleep if ye can.

The blue ribband now vacant, is likely to prove of as direful conſequence to this kingdom as the golden apple of old among the goddeſſes. The latter ſet heaven in arms; the former is likely to occaſion as much diſcord in the purlieus of St. James's.

Orders are ſent to Hanover to keep the troops in conſtant diſcipline, and to complete the number of every regiment with all expedition.

We hear that the noted Macaroni, Capt. Jones, who lately received his Majeſty's pardon, is bound on a voyage through the Windward Paſſage, and afterwards is to ſettle at Bombay.

We hear that William Stewart, Eſq; Lieutenant Governor of Dominica, is to be appointed Governor of Barbados, in the room of Governor Spry, deceaſed.

OCTOBER 21.

A very ſpirited memorial is now preparing in order to be ſent to the court of Portugal, relative to the recent complaints of the Engliſh merchants trading thither.

They write from Copenhagen, that the court has juſt taken ſix regiments of Heſſian troops into their pay.

On Sunday died, at his houſe near Coventry, John Bird, Eſq; Alderman of Baſſiſhaw ward, London, to which he was elected (on the death of Sir William Baker, Knt.) the 6th of February, 1770. He attended at the laſt ſeſſions at the Old Bailey, where he got the fever, which has been ſo fatal to ſeveral other perſons.

HAMBURGH (Germany) Oct. 9. The Ruſſians and Turks are employed in reinforcing their armies with all poſſible diligence. The Empreſs has raiſed 58 new regiments, ſo that her army, comprehending the 36 regiments that her Imperial Majeſty has in Finland, amounts to 800,000 men. She has cauſed 36 galleys and eight ſhips of the line to be built at Cronſtadt and Revel. The Ottoman army has received reinforcements ſufficient to make its number of men amount to 250,000, by the arrival troops from Aſia, and ſome thouſands from Boſnia.

LONDON, OCTOBER 22.

A letter from Warſaw, dated October 1, ſays, "a ſenatus conſilium is to be held the 10th of this month. His Majeſty ſtill refuſes to ſummon the members of the diet. In the declaration of the three united powers, it is notified, that the crown of Poland is for the future to be hereditary, and the King is intitled to more power than before, but to leſs revenue."

It is obſervable that no leſs than ten noblemen, and fifteen members of parliament, have already obtained grants of lands in Eaſt-Florida, in order to eſtabliſh plantations in that promiſing colony.

OCTOBER 23.

A letter from Altona, dated October 14, ſays, "We are informed, from very good authority, that the court of Copenhagen has mortgaged our city and the county of Pinnenbourg to the government of Hanover, for the ſum of 2,000,000 dollars; about 425,250 l."

Advice is juſt received by the Rochford Eaſt-Indiaman, that Shah Allum (who was formerly ſupported in his diſtreſs by the company, and has ſince been reſtored to the throne of Delhi) had marched with a large army towards Bengal; that he was oppoſed by Sujah al Dowla, upon the frontiers of his country, came to an action with him, and gained a complete victory; immediately after which he continued his march towards Calcutta. This account affords a noble inſtance of oriental gratitude, but if our European troops and ſeapoys are as well diſciplined as they have been reported to be, he may probably meet with a reward due to ſuch perfidy and baſeneſs.

General Monckton is to have the command of the forces in India, and, we hear, is already approved of by his Majeſty.

Yeſterday General Conway attended at court, and reſigned his place as Lieutenant-General of the Ordnance; the reaſon of his reſigning is, on account of Lord Townſhend's being Maſter General of the Ordnance, tho' inferior of rank in the army as they ſtand by rotation.

A propoſition is expected from the India-Houſe during the next ſeſſion of parliament, of all the Company's territorial revenues to the public, upon conditions no leſs advantageous to the proprietors than profitable to the nation at large.

The reaſon aſſigned for the readineſs which a great company now expreſſes to yield up its territorial revenues to the crown is, that the miſerable natives of Indoſtan being plundered of their all, the hopeful ſervants appointed by the directors begin to rob their maſters, and there is no way of checking their depredations but by making them amenable to a ſuperior authority.

OCTOBER 24.

They write from Paris, that the Farmers General have been called upon by the government to furniſh a very large ſum of money, which is looked upon as an omen that the court of France is meditating ſome great enterpriſe.

The bets are, we hear, that the oppoſition in the next ſeſſion, will be found to be ſtrengthened at leaſt one third.

As the Ruſſians are aſſembling all their forces, and drawing all their troops from Poland, to attack the Ottomans, whilſt the Emperor is filing off his forces towards the frontiers of Hungary, the fate of the Turkiſh empire, in all probability, cannot be far off; if ſo, the revelation of St. John will be verified and compleated, as is the prophecy of Daniel, which Sir Iſaac Newton has long ſince wrote upon, and proved to demonſtration.

Yeſterday the Lord Mayor held a Wardmote at Gilders-hall in Baſinghall-ſtreet, for the election of an Alderman of Baſſiſhaw Ward, in the room of John Bird, Eſq; deceaſed, when William Plomer, Eſq; Oilman, within Aldgate, was choſen without oppoſition.

St. JAMES's, Oct. 19. The King has been pleaſed to grant unto the right honourable George Lord Viſcount Townſhend, Lieutenant-General of his Majeſty's forces, the office of Maſter-General of the Ordnance.

OCTOBER 22. The King has been pleaſed to grant unto the Right Hon. Henry Seymour Conway, General of his Majeſty's forces, the office of Governor and Captain of the Iſle of Jerſey and Caſtle of Gourey, alias Montorgueil and Elizabeth.

The King has been pleaſed to grant unto Lieutenant-General Sir Jeffery Amherſt, Knight of the Bath, the office and place of Lieutenant-General of his Majeſty's Ordnance.

LONDON, OCTOBER 26.

At half paſt nine o'clock on Saturday morning the ſheriffs and the ſcrutineers nominated by Meſſrs. Wilkes and Townſend went upon the huſtings at Guildhall to begin the ſcrutiny for Lord Mayor, when Mr. Sheriff Oliver read the following letter from Aldermen Halliſax and Shakeſpeare, which he had juſt received by the hands of Mr. Reynolds, clerk of the Arraigns, one of the ſcrutineers on the part of thoſe two gentlemen.

To the SHERIFFS of LONDON.

Gentlemen,

THE reſpective ſcrutineers nominated by us having declared themſelves diſabled from entering upon the ſcrutiny, for want of the delivery of true copies of the poll, as required by Act of Parliament 11 Geo. I. we object to any further proceeding touching the preſent election of Mayor for the city of London, as irregular and illegal. We are, Gentlemen,

Your moſt obedient Servants,

Goldſmiths Hall, Oct. 24, 1772. THOMAS HALLIFAX. JOHN SHAKESPEARE.

Received ten minutes after nine from Mr. Edward Reynolds.

Witneſs, John Peart, George Daniel.

Preſent, Meſſrs. Johnſon, Smith, Humfrys, Reynolds, Leekey, Charles Merry, Hallyer.

After which the ſheriffs ſent to Goldſmiths Hall for the ſcrutineers nominated by Meſſrs. Halliſax and Shakeſpeare, who being come, a warm altercation enſued. At length Sir James Hodges was ſent for to produce the city records to ſearch for precedents, which took up ſome time; this being done, Mr. Sheriff Oliver ſtepped forward, and declared, that as the friends of Meſſrs. Halliſax and Shakeſpeare occaſioned the expence of the ſcrutiny, he and his brother ſheriff were determined to go through with it, which declaration was received with much applauſe. Mr. Sheriff Lewes then ſent for Alderman Townſend, who came upon the huſtings in a few minutes and declared, That a report having prevailed that if Mr. Wilkes and he ſhould be returned to the court of Aldermen for their choice of one, the Aldermen would ſcratch for him; and if that ſhould be the caſe, he aſſured them he would not accept the office in preference to Mr. Wilkes, as the latter was the ſenior Alderman. This declaration met with great approbation. Mr. Sheriff Lewes afterwards ſtepped forth and deſired, if any gentlemen in the Hall knew of bad votes on either ſide they would come forth and give information. The ſecondary and his clerks who copied the poll book, declared that they carefully examined the copies, and were very clear they were true; upon which the ſcrutiny commenced, laſted till three, and then the ſcrutineers adjourned till this morning ten o'clock, and will continue the buſineſs till three.

Col. Johnſon, Lieutenant-Governor of Minorca, has within theſe few days, written to Lord Romney, recommending to the Society of Arts, to encourage the making of ſilk in that iſland, where mulberry trees are found in great plenty; the Colonel has produced a ſample of fine ſilk manufactured by the natives, which is ſaid to be equal to any made in Europe.

OCTOBER 30.

Yeſterday at twelve o'clock, the Sheriffs and attendants came on the huſtings, when Mr. Sheriff Oliver informed the livery, that, "the court of Aldermen were then met, and begged their patience till one o'clock;" at which time the Town-Clerk came forward and declared, that the poll, after the niceſt enquiry, was in favour of the Aldermen Wilkes and Townſhend; that the numbers on that ſcrutiny ſtood the ſame as at the concluſion of the poll, and that they were returned to the court of Aldermen for their determination. At two o'clock the Lord Mayor came on the huſtings, and the proper officer declared to the livery, that the court had diſcovered a majority in favour of Alderman Townſhend and that they had made choice of him to be Lord Mayor for the year enſuing. When the declaration was made in favour of Alderman Townſhend, there was great confuſion in the hall for ſome time, as the friends of that gentleman clapped and huzzaed, and thoſe of Alderman Wilkes hiſſed and hooted, which ſome time after ſubſided. Alderman Townſhend being inveſted with the gold chain in the uſual manner, then came forward and addreſſed the Livery in the following words:

Gentlemen,

AFTER the repeated teſtimonies I have already given you of my zeal in the cauſe of liberty, I ſhould imagine that all profeſſions are unneceſſary on my part. I am this day elected your chief magiſtrate, and be aſſured I will continue firm and inflexible in the principles on which I have acted. Conſcious of my ſincerity, I wiſh only to poſſeſs the applauſe of honeſt men—I deſire no other reward—no other return than the eſteem and confidence of my fellow-citizens.

After which Mr. Alderman Wilkes came forward, and addreſſed the Livery as follows:

Gentlemen, and Brother Liverymen,

AFTER the moſt unfair and ungrounded allegations, both againſt the juſtice of the poll and the honour of the ſheriffs, our adverſaries have been reduced to the neceſſity of abandoning a ſcrutiny, which was only demanded to create expence, and to diſturb the public peace. Upon the fulleſt evidence I am now warranted to declare, that if the ſcrutiny had been continued by them, a much greater majority than that declared by the ſheriffs at the cloſe of the poll, would have appeared at the finiſhing of the ſcrutiny, and many ſcenes of iniquity and corruption have been laid open to all mankind. The conſciouſneſs and dread of this was the true cauſe of the ſcrutiny being declined on the moſt falſe and injurious ſubterfuge.

The Court of Aldermen, gentlemen, notwithſtanding the ſanction of your declared wiſh and approbation by the majority of your ſuffrages, have not thought proper to ratify your choice. I give the gentleman, who is the object of their choice, much joy. His forward zeal for the public ſervice—but I will not be his panegyriſt.

I am happy, gentlemen, to be farther uſeful to you by humbly offering you, at all future times, the tender of my ſervices, in conjunction with any gentleman, whom you may chuſe hereafter, to raiſe to the dignity of your chief magiſtrate. I ſhall thus enjoy the ſatisfaction of voting in the Livery of London the full and ſole power of electing their own Mayor, a privilege enjoyed by all other corporations, and which, in my opinion, they ought to have had at the firſt formation of the conſtitution of this city. On every occaſion, gentlemen, I ſhall be ready to obey your commands, and to convince you of my warm gratitude for your repeated favours.

When Mr. Wilkes had concluded his Addreſs to the Livery, Capt. Allen advanced, and propoſed to the Livery, that Alderman Croſby ſhould be required to inform them, that he had ſent copies of the inſtructions to the different members, but had received no anſwer. Capt. Allen then made a motion that they motion was alſo made and ſeconded, that the Town-clerk do enter the ſame; upon which Sheriff Lewes advanced to complain to the Livery of the attempt of the Lord Mayor to interrupt the motion being made, but was prevented from proceeding by the Lord Mayor's breaking up the court. Much hiſſing enſued, and the cry of ſtop him! ſtop him! was unanimous through the hall. Alderman Townſhend imagining the Lord Mayor was in danger of being inſulted, conducted him to his coach, declaring his abhorrence of the licentiouſneſs of ſome of the people, and calling repeatedly for the Sheriffs.

The Court of Aldermen are ſuppoſed to vote as follows: For Alderman Townſhend; Ladbroke, Alſop, Glynn, Harley, Plumb, Stevenſon, Oliver, Sawbridge. For Alderman Wilkes; Aſgill, Bridgen, Turner, Croſby, Kirkman, Bull, Lewes. Did not vote; Lord Mayor, Shakeſpeare, Wilkes, Townſhend, Rolleſton, Kennet.

The Lord Mayor-elect went to the Manſion-houſe in the ſtate-coach with the preſent Lord Mayor; where he and Alderman Shakeſpeare dined with his Lordſhip.

The Recorder made a genteel ſpeech in the Court of Aldermen, and reſigned his office.

RECITATIVE.

BEHOLD! the SOCIAL BAND appears,
Imparting Joy, diſpelling Fears!
And wak'd by Duty, and by Choice,
Command the Sons of FREEDOM to rejoice.

SONG.

BOAST not, Mortals, human Skill,
If the ſculptur'd Dome you raiſe;
Works of Art, by Fancy's Will,
Lead us oft through Folly's Maze.
What if PHIDIAS' Chiſſel Guide,
What if TITIAN's Pencil Grace,
Marble flatters but our Pride,
Bane of all the human Race!

RECITATIVE.

'Tis from the watchful Culture of the Mind,
A well-directed Soul, a Senſe refin'd,
That heav'nly Virtues ſpring to grace the Man;
This be our noble Conflict and our Plan!

AIR.

LET the Diamond's Luſtre blaze,
Call its Water bright and clear,
But confeſs, the greater Praiſe
Reſts on Pity's tender Tear.
May the ſocial Virtues bind,
Tune each ſympathetic Heart;
Raiſe the Feeble, lead the Blind,
Wipe the Tear that ſwells to ſtart.

RECITATIVE.

YE bleſſed Miniſters above,
Who guard the Good with pureſt Love,
Propitious hear the Notes of Praiſe,
Whilſt BRITAIN's Sons their Voices raiſe.

AIR.

BLESSINGS await this Weſtern Land,
Bleſſings o'erflow with lib'ral Hand;
Commerce uprears our infant Stase,
And golden Currents make us great:
Fair SCIENCE lifts her Head, and cries,
"I come to make you Good and Wiſe!"
Theſe be the Glories of each Day,
Marking our Monarch's gentle Sway.

RECITATIVE.

OUR ſocial Band, by Love and Honour join'd,
Unite their Zeal, as Friends to Human Kind:
The Myſtic Senſe is out, the Sign does move,
Behold the SIGN!—Peace, Harmony, and Love!

DUETTO.

LET the Day be ever prais'd,
When the ROYAL CRAFT was rais'd;
Let the SOCIAL VIRTUES ſhine,
Doing Good is ſure Divine.

CHORUS.

GIVE the Heroes all their Due,
Twine their Brows with Laurels too;
But ſhall we no Laurels find,
For our Love to Human Kind?
Let the SOCIAL VIRTUES ſhine,
DOING GOOD is ſure DIVINE.

To the PRINTER.

THE Order of Jeſuits having made for two centuries, a conſiderable figure in Europe, both in civil and eccleſiaſtical affairs; and being, of all the religious Orders of the Church of Rome, the moſt political and beſt regulated, from which alſo ſociety hath derived ſingular advantages, and received great hurt; it may not be unacceptable to your readers to give a brief account of the genius of its laws and government.

The founder of it, Ignatius Loyola, was a ſoldier, remarkable for extravagancies in ſentiment and conduct, and ambitious and daring. The inſtitution, though ſtrongly oppoſed, upon the repreſentation of a committee of Cardinals, as dangerous and unneceſſary, was, in 1540, by the members adding to the three monaſtic vows, that of implicit obedience to the Pope, confirmed by his Holineſs.

In ſomewhat more than half a century, the number of Jeſuits, at firſt ten, increaſed to ten thouſand five hundred and eighty-one; they had eſtabliſhments in every country of the Romiſh perſuaſion, moſt amazingly increaſed in wealth and power, and were eminent for their literary accompliſhments and the purity of their morals.

The ſyſtem of profound and artful policy, which diſtinguiſhes the Order, was framed by the two Generals who ſucceeded Loyola. They are exempt from the functions of the Monaſtic Orders, and not obliged to practiſe any rigorous auſterities, but required to attended to all the tranſactions of the world, on account of the influence they may have upon religion, by which a ſpirit of action and intrigue is infuſed into them. The General is perfectly deſpotic, whoſe injunctions are to be obſerved with the ſame ſtrictneſs as if they had been uttered by Chriſt, who can impoſe upon them any taſk, and employ them on any ſervice, which they muſt faithfully and implicitly obey and execute, their will and underſtanding being entirely ſubſervient to his arbitrary mandates.

Every candidate for the Order is obliged to confeſs his ſins and defects, and diſcover the inclinations, the paſſions, and bent of his ſoul, to the Superior, or his ſubſtitute, every ſix months, till the age of thirty-three, when he becomes a profeſſed member; during which time every member is conſtituted a ſpy over his conduct, and he paſſes through ſeveral gradations of ranks in the ſociety. By this method, and the information received from the Provincials and Heads of Houſes, the talents, the character, and the temper of every member are known to the Superior, and carefully regiſtered, who, from this perfect information, hath always ready inſtruments fit for any ſervice in which he thinks meet to employ them.

Before the end of the ſixteenth century, they directed the education of youth in every Catholic country of Europe, became Confeſſors to almoſt all its Monarchs, were the ſpiritual guides of perſons eminent for rank and power, and poſſeſſed the higheſt degree of confidence and intereſt in the Papal Court.

The advantages ariſing from theſe circumſtances are obvious. They had by theſe means, at different periods, the direction of the moſt conſiderable Courts in Europe, mingled in all affairs, and took part in every intrigue and revolution. Their wealth was not inferior to their power, and the number and magnificence of their public buildings, with the value of the contents, vied with the moſt opulent of the religious fraternities, which was prodigiouſly increaſed by a permiſſion to trade with thoſe nations in the Eaſt and Weſt-Indies, whom they laboured to convert. The extraordinary influence they acquired hath been often exerted with the moſt pernicious effects. To their corrupt and dangerous caſuiſtry, their extravagant tenets concerning eccleſiaſtical power, and their intolerant ſpirit againſt the profeſſors of Proteſtantiſm, may be aſcribed the evils and calamities which have happened in Europe during two centuries.

Notwithſtanding the bad conſequences which have flowed from the inſtitution of this Order, ſome conſiderable benefits to ſociety have been derived from it. The Jeſuits, in their colleges, cultivated the ſtudy of ancient literature, contributed much to the progreſs of polite learning, produced eminent maſters in many branches of ſcience, and can boaſt of a greater number of ingenious authors, and perſons diſtinguiſhed for good morals, than all the other religious ſocieties taken together.

It is unneceſſary to note the rules of this Society, which, during the proſecution lately carried on againſt them in Portugal and France, they have inconſiderately produced to the public, which, before they moſt aſſiduouſly and ſucceſsfully laboured to conceal. From them the principles of their government may be delineated, and the ſources of their power inveſtigated, with a degree of certainty and preciſion, which, previous to that event, it was impoſſible to attain. HISTORICUS.

Two Queſtions anſwered by an eminent Lawyer.

A. GREAT Lawyer, what is Law? B. 'Tis
what you pleaſe;
'Tis a Church ſteeple; or, 'tis toaſted Cheeſe;
'Tis Pudding-pie; of Jallop 'tis a Doſe,
A. You ſeem to droll or banter; nuckle cloſe.
Can Murder be forgiv'n? B. Yes, if the Cauſe
Which pardons, be ſuperior to the Laws.
A. Adieu, great Sir! as wiſe as when I came,
I find, moſt Oracles are much the ſame.

Heaven to Human Souls.

GO into Bodies; there, be this your View,
Govern your Paſſions, or they'll govern you.
Vices and Appetites to Habits grown,
Are Hell begun; Whoſe was the Choice? Your own.
I made you free, and pointed out your Courſe:
The Devils had Free-will. I never force,
I only caution, Be upon your Guard;
'Tis your own Rule, No Victʼry, no Reward.

Dr. YOUNG to the MACCARONIES.

YE well-arrayʼd! ye Lilies of our Land!
Ye Lilies Male! who neither toil nor ſpin,
(As Siſter Lilies might) if not ſo wiſe
As Solomon, more ſumptuous to the Sight!
Ye delicate! who nothing can ſupport,
Yourſelves moſt inſupportable! for whom
The Winter Roſe muſt blow, the Sun put on
A brighter Beam in Leo; ſilky-ſoft
Favonius breathe ſtill ſofter, or be chid;
And other Worlds ſend Odours, Sauce, and Song;
And Robes, and Notions, fram'd in foreign Looms!
Ye Maccaronies of our Age! who deem
One Moment unamuſ'd, a Miſery
Not made for feeble Man! who call aloud
For evʼry Bauble, driveʼl oʼer by Senſe;
For Rattles, and Conceits of evʼry Caſt,
For Change of Follies, and Relays of Joy,
To drag your Patient through the tedious Length
Of a ſhort Winter's Day—ſay, Sages! ſay,
Wit's Oracles! ſay, Dreamers of gay Dreams!
How will you weather an eternal Night,
Where ſuch expedients fail?
